Safety By: Antonio Marrufo

Congress created the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) to ensure safe and healthful working conditions for workers by setting and enforcing standards and by providing training, outreach, education and assistance

OSHA's safety training will keep you and your employees safer from potential accidents .

What is purpose of OSHA 10 certification?

OSHA 10-hour training teaches basic safety and health information to entry -level workers in construction and general industry.

C&E Industrial Services Inc. main objective is to have all its workers trained at a high -level regarding safety, health and the environment.

C&E Industrial Services Inc. always concerned about the safety, health and well -being of its workers.

Having competent trained workers in all areas of construction creates an environment of safety and health in each of its workers and minimizes an accident.

It is part of the OSHA Outreach Training Program, which explains serious workplace hazards, workers' rights, employer responsibilities and how to file an OSHA complaint

Its purpose is to promote workplace safety and health and to make workers more knowledgeable about workplace hazards and their rights .

What are the objectives of health and safety?
The primary objective of a health and safety policy should be to prevent or reduce work-related accidents and occupational diseases

Understand importance of OSHA in regulating employee safety in the workplace. Knowledge of employees' rights and employer responsibilities.

Congratulations to all the workers of C&E Industrial Services Inc. for taking the OSHA 10 hours training, where all workers obtained their certification.

More training better employees

“If you don’t have time to do it right, you must have time to do it over.”

-Unknown.

Anyone can interpret this quote differently, but its simple meaning is that failure is acceptable, so long as you learn from it. There is no excuse for repeated failure if one has worked to correct it. It's a good reminder that rushing through something might save you time right now, but it'll ultimately take you more time to do it over if there are problems. Saving time is great when it doesn't come at a cost, but when you run the risk of making mistakes by taking the shortest route, you're not really saving time at all. Be proud of your work, make sure it speaks for you.
